DESCRIPTION

The boutique hotel is built around a renovated 1804 farmhouse (masía) with stables and barn, whose architectural elements were lovingly preserved: stone walls, wooden rafters. The buildings are surrounded by gardens with lovely mountain views, set in 23 hectares of olive and almond groves.

Mas de la Costa's elegant rooms and suites have individual furnishings and decorations.

Our gourmet restaurant proposed an à-la-carte dinner menu, which changes daily. The cultural journey revolves around small medieval towns, wine and olive tastings, vineyard visits, hiking and biking. Of course, dolce far niente around the hotel and in its gardens are just as enjoyable.

OWNERS

Françoise & Christian, the Luxembourg-based owners, created this charming hotel, environmentally friendly (off the grid), in harmony with its surroundings and history. Their philosophy: Slow living, slow food.

ACCOMMODATION

The Mas de la Costa offers 15 rooms and suites, named after Françoise's best-loved poets, whose books can be found in each room. They are decorated in a warm colonial style that combines simplicity and elegance. The light-coloured teak-wood furniture creates a cosy atmosphere.

All rooms are individually furnished and decorated, with ample King-sized beds. The three suites are additionally furnished with a Queen-size sofa bed in the living room. The beds in some of the rooms can be separated into wide twin beds. Bed linen are 300-thread-count Egyptian cotton by the prestigious Italian textile company FRETTE.

Some rooms access their own private garden.
